Questions 16 - 25

Read the information on the natural benefits and curative properties of fruits. Then answer the following questions.

Apple

The apple is considered as a protective food. It contains minerals and vitamins in abundance. Apart from its energy value, it plays an important role in the normal development of metabolic functions. Apples are highly beneficial in the treatment of all kinds of headache.

Banana

The banana is one of the oldest and a very hygienic fruit as it comes in a "germ-proof" package. Its thick covering provides an excellent protection against bacteria and contamination. It contains a large amount of easily assimilated sugar. Bananas are of great value both in constipation and diarrhoea.

Grape

The grape is a highly valued fruit mainly for its rich content of sugar. It is highly nutritious and easily digested. Grapes are highly beneficial in the treatment of heart disease. They tone up the heart and are effective in relieving cardiac pain and palpitation of the heart.

Papaya

The papaya has been regarded as one of the most valuable tropical fruits. It is a rich source of vitamin C. It is not only one of the most easily digested fruits, but it also aids in the digestion of other foods. Fresh juice of raw papaya mixed with honey can be applied with beneficial results over inflamed tonsils for diphtheria and other throat disorders. It dissolves the membrane and prevents infection from spreading.

Orange

The orange is a rich source of vitamin A, B, C and calcium. It is the most popular citrus fruit. Its vitamin C content helps the body tissues to use the calcium contained in food. This fruit, being an excellent source of calcium and vitamin C, is valuable in the treatment of diseases of the bone and teeth.

Questions 26-30 Read the passage below and answer the questions that follow.

- 1 A long time ago, a girl named Li-li got married and went to live with her husband and her mother-in-law. In a very short time, Li-li found that she could not get along with her mother-in-law at all. Their personalities were very different, and Li-li was angered by many of her mother-in-law's habits. In addition, her mother-in-law constantly criticised her.
- 2 Days passed days, and weeks passed weeks. Li-li and her mother-in-law never stopped arguing and fighting. But what made the situation even worse was that, according to Chinese tradition, Li-li had to bow to her mother-in-law and obey her every wish. All the anger and unhappiness in the house were causing the poor husband great distress. He did not know what to do; on the one hand was his mother and on the other was his wife, both of whom he loved dearly. He could not tell his mother not to pick on his wife who was not filial.
- 3 Finally, Li-li could not stand her mother-in-law's bad temper and dictatorship any longer, and she decided to do something about it. Li-li could not turn to her husband for help, so she decided to seek help elsewhere. She went to see her father's good friend, Mr. Huang, who sold herbs. She told him the situation and asked if he would give her some poison so that she could solve the problem once and for all. Mr. Huang did not look surprised nor did he scold Li-li. In fact, he nodded in sympathy but did not say anything.
- 4 He went into the back room, and returned in a few minutes with a packet of herbs. He told Li-li, "You can't use a quick-acting poison to get rid of your mother-in-law because that would cause people to become suspicious. Therefore, I have given you a number of herbs that will slowly poison her body. Every other day prepare some soup with meat and put a little of these herbs in her serving. Now, in order to make sure nobody suspects you when she dies, you must be very careful and act very friendly towards her. Don't argue with her, obey her every wish and treat her like a queen."
- 5 Li-li was both happy and relieved. Finally, there was going to be a solution to the problem. She thanked Mr. Huang profusely and hurried home to start her plot of murdering her mother-in-law. Weeks went by, and months went by, and every other day, Li-li served the specially-treated food to her mother-in-law. She remembered what Mr. Huang had said about avoiding suspicion, so she controlled her temper, obeyed her mother-in-law and treated her like her mother.
- 6 After six months had passed, the whole household had changed. Li-li practised controlling her temper so much that she found that she almost never got mad or upset. She hadn't had an argument in six months with her mother-in-law, who now seemed much kinder and easier to get along with.
- 7 The mother-in-law's attitude towards Li-li changed and she began to love Li-li like her own daughter. She kept telling friends and relatives that Li-li was the best daughter-in-law one could ever find. Li-li and her mother-in-law were now treating each other like a real mother and daughter. Li-li's husband was very happy to see what was happening.
- 8 One day, a remorseful Li-li came to see Mr. Huang and asked for his help again. She said, "Dear Mr. Huang, please help me to keep the poison from killing my mother-in-law. She's changed into such a nice woman, and I love her like my own mother. I do not want her to die because of the poison I gave her."
- 9 Mr. Huang smiled and nodded his head. "Li-li, there's nothing to worry about. I never gave you any poison. The herbs I gave you were supplements to improve her health. The only poison was in your mind and your attitude towards her, but that has been all washed away by the love you gave her."

Question 32

Read the following stanzas below and answer the questions that follow.

Monsoon History

Again we are taken over
By clouds and rolling darkness.
Small snails appear
Clashing their timid horns
Among the morning glory
Vines.

iii

Drinking milo,
Nyonya and baba sit at home.
This was forty years ago.
Sarong-wrapped they counted
Silver paper for the dead.
Portraits of grandfathers
Hung always in the parlour.
Reading Tennyson, at six
p.m. in pajamas,
Listening to down-pouring
Rain: the air ticks
With gnats, black spiders fly,

Moths sweep out of our rooms
Where termites built
Their hills of eggs and queens zoom
In heat. We wash our feet
For bed, watch mother uncoil
Her snake hair, unbuckle
The silver mesh around her waist,
Waiting for father pacing
The sand as fishers pull
From the Straits after monsoon.

iv

The air is still, silent
Like sleepers rocked in the pantun,
Sheltered by Malacca
This was forty years ago,
When nyonya married baba.

Read the extract from the short story The Necklace below and answer the questions that follow.

She saw first some bracelets, then a pearl necklace, then a Venetian gold cross set with precious stones, of admirable workmanship. She tried on the ornaments before the mirror, hesitated and could not make up her mind to part with them, to give them back. She kept asking, "Haven't you any more?"

"Why, yes, look further. I don't know what you like."

Suddenly, she discovered, in a black satin box, a superb diamond necklace and her heart throbbed with an immoderate desire. Her hands trembled as she took it. She fastened it round her throat and was lost in ecstasy at her reflection in the mirror.
